

WEDDINGS HELD SOCIETY STATE

Newberrys Motor North to White Mountains

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Truman H. Newberry, with their debutante daughter, Miss Carol Newberry, and their twin sons, Barnes and Phelps, have arrived at Breton Woods, in the White mountains of New Hampshire, in their big touring car. They motored up there from their summer home at Watch Hill, where Mrs. Newberry and their children have spent the summer. Mr. Newberry making week-end trips to visit them. They will be absent several weeks on this trip, which is the first real vacation Mr. Newberry has had during the hot weather.

They will make a trip to their home in Detroit before returning to their Washington home for the winter.

Wedded in Baltimore.

An interesting wedding of Washingtonians took place yesterday morning in Baltimore, when Miss Bertha Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Parsons, became the wife of Jasper A. Smith. They went to Baltimore for the ceremony for reasons of sentiment and association. The ceremony was performed at noon in the home of the bridegroom's brother, Stuart J. Smith, and was witnessed only by members of the family. The bride wore a tailor-made gown of brown cloth, with a white picture hat. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home, after September 23, at 121 Sixth street southeast, in this city.

Miss Maud Miles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Miles, was married last evening to Henry W. Lippert, by the Rev. Dr. J. M. Gill, pastor of the Rhode Island Avenue Methodist Protestant Church. Immediately after the ceremony the couple started for Niagara Falls, Buffalo, N. Y., and neighboring cities.

Reed-Coulter Nuptials.

Miss Vera Pierce Reed and H. H. Coulter were married Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by the Rev. E. Rex Swann, of the Second Baptist Church. Miss Reed's bridal gown was of chiffon over white silk and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Theresa Montgomery, sister of the bride, and J. W. Coulter, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Coulter left for the Jamestown Exposition and other Southern points. They will reside with the bride's parents, at 618 Seventh street southwest, upon their return.

Postmaster General and Mrs. Meyer and daughters, Miss Alice Meyer and Miss Julia Meyer, who have been spending the last month camping in the Adirondacks, are having their house put in order for them and expect to return to the city Monday.

The marriage of Miss Daisy L. Bramlett and J. C. McCravy, both formerly of South Carolina, is announced. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles F. Winbiger, and after a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. McCravy returned to their home, where they are at home at 208 D street northeast.

Miss Mitchell Wedded.

Miss Lillian Marie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Mitchell, of Branchville, Md., was married Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to Ernest Eugene Emerson, of Berwyn, Md. The ceremony, which took place in the home of the bride, was performed by the Rev. Mr. La Roche, of the Episcopal Church, Beltsville, Md.

The bride was attired in a princess gown of cream lace, and wore a white veil. Her hair, her flowers were a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Susan Allen Mitchell, a sister of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. La Roche, of the Episcopal Church, Beltsville, Md.

The bride entered the parlor with her father, who gave her in marriage. Maurice A. Emerson, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson left for their bridal trip immediately after the ceremony, which followed the ceremony. Mrs. Emerson is wearing a traveling gown of tan and cream striped panama with tan hat to match. Upon their return they will make their home at Branchville with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Harry C. Fiske, of Takoma Park, has left for a ten days' visit to Dickerson, Md.

Mrs. Rush, of North Takoma, with her children, Lyle, Mary, and Richard, are home from a visit to Warrenton, Va., and the Jamestown Exposition. At the latter place they were joined by Mr. Rush, who returned with them.

Mrs. Covert, of Kansas City, Mo., has returned to her home, after a visit with her son, at his residence on Blair road, Takoma.

Col. and Mrs. R. S. Brown, of Chestnut street, Takoma Park, are again in the park, after a visit to Jamestown and other points of interest in Virginia.

Mrs. Henry Oldys, of North Takoma, with her children, Margaret, Robert, Katherine, and May, have returned from Colonial Beach, Va.

Mrs. John Melkilejohn, of Blair road, accompanied by her young daughters, Helen and Maudie, together with Mrs. George Reuth, has gone to Chesapeake Beach for ten days.

Joseph Noell, formerly of Richmond, Va., has returned to his home in Winston, N. C., from a flying trip to the home of Mrs. Henry A. Cady, of Chestnut street, Takoma. The trip was made to attend the christening of his infant son last Sunday, in Trinity Church.

Mrs. Carl Decker, of New York, and Mrs. Edgar Allen, of Richmond, Va., are visiting their mother, Mrs. H. M. Bennett, of Eastern avenue, Takoma Park, who was injured in the train wreck at Sunbury, Pa., recently.

Mrs. Hubbard and her infant, Jerome, have returned to Takoma from their trip through Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Tucker and daughters, the Misses Louise Grayce, and their sister, Miss Minnie Padgett, have returned after having spent the summer at Colonial Beach, Va.

Mrs. George Baxter and daughter, Miss Lillian, who are spending the season at Kennebunkport, Me., will return to town September 28.

Mrs. Lester, of Massachusetts avenue, and her three little daughters have returned from a delightful summer at Seal Harbor, Me.

The friends of Miss Katie White, of Maple street, Takoma Park, were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiltberger, at Terra Cotta, last

MISS MABEL MERRIAM WILL WED OCTOBER 19

MISS MABEL MERRIAM,

Whose Marriage to John Wheelwright, of Boston, Will Take Place October 19, in St. John's Church.

Daughter of Former Director of Census Will Be Attended by Sister at Her Marriage to John Wheelwright, of Boston.

The marriage of Miss Mabel D. Merriam, daughter of former Governor of Minnesota and former Census Director and Mrs. W. E. Merriam, to John Wheelwright, of Boston, will take place on the afternoon of October 19, at 4 o'clock in St. John's Episcopal Church, where the smartest and most famous weddings in Washington society have taken place.

Miss Merriam will be attended by her sister, Miss Laura Beatrice Merriam, as maid of honor, and Mr. Wheelwright will have his brother, Edward Wheelwright, of Boston, for best man. The list of ushers is not quite complete. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the home of the Merriams, 1414 Sixteenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Wheelwright will return to Washington after their wedding tour, and spend the greater part of the winter here.

Miss Merriam is a granddaughter of Col. and Mrs. John Hancock and a grandniece of General Hancock. She is also a niece of Mrs. James C. Bishop, of New York; of Mrs. Frank Mitchell, of Newport, New York; and of Mrs. Benjamin Reeves Russell, of Washington, and Mrs. Griffin, formerly of Boston, and later of New York.

General and Mrs. Merriam are again settled in their Sixteenth street home after having spent last winter with their son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. John H. Merriam, in their Nineteenth street house.

evening. The party was given in honor of and as a farewell to Miss White, as she will leave Takoma for Florida the latter part of this month. The wedding program was given by Mrs. Jones and Byron Blodgett. Miss White also entertained the company with some recitations, and later a supper was served.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiltberger, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Walker, Misses Elizabeth Watkins, Julia Trentice, and Jennie Wiltberger, Byron Blodgett, Leon C. Lee, and J. Bond Smith.

Colonel and Mrs. Hodges have returned to town and leased the residence at 1776 Massachusetts avenue, formerly occupied by Colonel Edwards, corps of engineers.

Miss Mary Austin has returned from a summer's sojourn in the Blue Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Downs Wilson returned on Monday from an extended sojourn at Kennebunkport, Me.

The Misses Mattie and Anna Abbott are spending the month in the Blue Ridge, near Monterey, Md.

The Rev. Dr. Blake and Mrs. Blake are temporarily located at 302 P street, awaiting the completion of repairs upon the rectory of Christ Church.

Miss Ella Mix, of Georgetown, has gone to New York to meet her niece, Miss Little Mix, who is returning from an extended European tour.

Major Frederick Abbott, U. S. A., will shortly sail for his new post at Manila, accompanied by his wife Major Abbott's orders are limited to three months.

Mrs. Crosby Miller, widow of General Miller, U. S. A., arrived in town on Tuesday as the guest of Gen. John M. Wilson and Miss Lelia Waller. Mrs. Miller has been living South since the death of her husband and intends to lease her house on R street.

Miss Clara Baldwin has returned to her apartment on Y street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lockett have returned from Narragansett to their Massachusetts avenue home.

Miss Lelia Waller returned a week ago from an enjoyable summer in Pennsylvania and later Vineyard Haven.

Mrs. Leech and her sister, Mrs. Fowle, have returned from Winchester, Va., to their apartments at the Marlborough, and will shortly leave for Atlantic City.

Bishop Satterlee returned to his home in Washington yesterday and will be joined there Monday by Mrs. Satterlee. The Bishop and Mrs. Satterlee have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Tolson, at Lenox.

George Howard left Washington yesterday morning for Narragansett to join Mrs. Howard and their family. They will then go to Prides Crossing, where they will be the guests of Gen. John M. Wilson and Mrs. Clarence Moore at Swiftmoor, the beautiful country estate of Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Swift, of Chicago.

Later Mrs. Howard will go to New York for a short stay before returning to her Washington home October 1.

Viscount and Viscountess de Sibour have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Swiftmoor.

Miss Frederica Morgan, daughter of Col. and Mrs. James Morris Morgan, will leave Washington Friday for Leesburg, Va., where she will be the guest of Miss Hibbs at her parents' summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walcott Tuckerman who have been spending the summer at Kennebunkport, Me., and opened their apartment in the Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hague of Washington, who were at Newport this sum-

Miss Gardner Is Bride of J. M. Dove, Jr.

The marriage of Miss Helen Browning Gardner and J. Maury Dove, Jr., took place yesterday at noon in the Church of the Sacred Heart, in Vineyard Haven, Mass., the summer home of the Gardners and the Doves.

A reception for the relatives followed the ceremony, in the new home of the bride's mother, for which the plans had just been made when the death of the bride's father, Dr. Frank A. Gardner, one of Washington's most prominent physicians, occurred.

Mr. Dove has had an apartment in the Westmoreland, on California avenue, ready for his bride for some time, and they will make their home there after December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Temple Wilson announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gladys Granby, to Lieut. Leonard Rundlett Sargent. The wedding will take place the latter part of October, at Lakewood, N. J. Lieut. Sargent is an aide to the superintendent of the Naval Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Arth have gone to Niagara Falls and Canada for a stay of ten days.

Miss Meta Virginia Burke, the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Burke, of New Market, Va., was quietly married today at high noon to Charles H. Moore, a prominent business man of New Market. The wedding took place in the Thirtieth Street M. E. Church, South, the Rev. W. H. Balchinger, pastor, officiating.

The bride, who was handsomely gowned in a tailor suit of champagne chiffon, Panama cloth, and carrying cream roses, was given in marriage by her brother, Joseph F. Burke, of this city. Mrs. Frank J. Sloan, cousin of the bride, of Mr. Rainier, Md., attired in a tailor-made suit of blue chiffon Panama and carrying white astors, acted as bridesmaid.

The bridegroom, who was dressed in a suit of blue and white, was met at the door by the bride's mother, who was wearing a white organdie and carried pink astors. Frank J. Sloan, of this city, acted as best man. The bride and groom, and bride party had a beautifully appointed breakfast at the Raleigh. They will take the evening boat to the Jamestown Exposition, after which they will visit a number of the Eastern cities, returning to New Market about October 1, where they will be at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Woodbury and Mrs. A. C. Foster, of this city, have gone to Bretton Woods, N. H., for an autumn visit.

The wedding of James Thayer McMillan, son of Mrs. William C. McMillan, of Detroit, and Miss Anne Davenport Russell will take place in this city on October 15. Mr. McMillan, his sister, Miss Doris McMillan, and his mother are now at Manchester, Mass., where they will remain until the wedding. Mr. McMillan is a member of the British minister to Abyssinia, which event takes place in London about October 1. The young bridegroom-elect is a grandson of the late Senator McMillan, of Detroit, Mich.

The second secretary of the Brazilian embassy and Mme. Chermont after spending the summer in Canada are traveling in Canada for a few weeks before returning to Washington in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Wright, of Worcester College, formerly Commissioner of Labor here, and Mrs. Wright announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Grace Dunham Wright, to Dr. Samuel Paul Capon, of Clark College, son of the late President Capon, of Tufts College.

Preston Gibson, who has been the guest of E. R. Thomas in New York, is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, at Prides Crossing, en route to Canada, where he is going on a shooting trip, accompanied by his son.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Georgia Mildred Overman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Overman, to J. Clinton Tribby. The ceremony, which took place yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, was performed by the Rev. Dr. Bristol, in the Metropolitan Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Tribby will make their home in the Raymond.

Leonard L. Nicholson, Jr., Harris M. Crist, and Orville Ecker, of Washington, who have been traveling in Belgium, Germany, Holland, France, and England, have returned to their homes in Washington. While abroad the party spent some time at Ostend.

Mrs. Sarah Shreve announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Grace Louise Shreve, to Bayard S. Johns. The ceremony took place privately at Hagerstown, August 23, and no invitations were issued.

Dr. and Mrs. George Sternberg have returned from Bass Rock off the coast of Gloucester, Mass., and are again in their home, 290 Massachusetts avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Tighe and their little ones are at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Duckett announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Rebecca E. Duckett, to John W. Frobasco, of Bridgeton, N. J.

Mrs. J. Hobart Bean and son, of Twelfth street, have gone to Florida, to join Mr. Bean, who has been there for some time.

Mrs. Benjamin Harris left this morning to spend the week-end in New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Stuart and family and Miss Esther Behrend have returned after spending the summer at Mountain Lake Park, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Lauman and Eugene Lauman are visiting relatives in Attica, Ind., and Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Kohner and Miss Julia Kohner went to Baltimore yesterday to meet Mr. and Mrs. Kohner's son, Maurice, who has spent two months traveling in Europe with his uncle, Jonas H. Macchalis, also of Washington.

Benwood Baer, accompanied by his nieces, Miss Carol Baer and Miss Edna Dryfoos, left yesterday for a visit to the Jamestown Exposition.

Melvin Behrend has returned to his home, after visiting his sister, Mrs. Phil May, of Charleston, W. Va.

SCHOOL SHIP RETURNS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The school ship St. Mary's arrived today returning from her summer cruise to Plymouth, England; Funchal, Madeira. All on board are reported well. The St. Mary's anchored off Tompkinsville, S. I.

TEETH THAT PLEASE
D. C. DENTISTS
"Our Price" stands the most critical test. Guaranteed to fit. $5.00.
GOLD CROWNS, BRIDGEWORK, FILLINGS, 50c up.
Lady Attendant. Hours: 8 to 5:30.
D. C. DENTISTS - 617 7th St. N. W.
Dr. Todd, Phone Main 2504.

KINSMAN, EYESIGHT SPECIALIST,
908 F St. N. W., South Side
YOU are not annoyed by glasses slipping off when we adjust them. We fit them perfectly.

Have our specialists examine your eyes and see if glasses won't cure those headaches. 25% discount on duplicating glasses.
KINSMAN, 908 F St. N. W.

Baby Dies of Poison Given for Medicine

Daughter of Dr. Joseph Reilly Administers Dose While in Country for Health. Heroic Efforts Fail to Save Life.

Despite heroic efforts to save the life of Dr. Joseph Reilly's infant daughter Margarette, who had been given bichloride of mercury in mistake for calomel on Tuesday evening, when the little girl was ill with fever, death ended the suffering of the ten months' old baby this morning. Although the child was writhing in pain up to the time of her death, she would cease her struggles for an instant to hold out her dimpled hands to her father, and cry "Daddy, daddy," in her baby lisp.

Several physicians, among whom were Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

The story of little Margarette's death is peculiarly sad. The mother and father, together with their only daughter and a nurse, had gone to spend a few weeks with friends near Calumet, Minn., where it was hoped the country air and outdoor life would benefit the child.

On Tuesday evening the child seemed to grow more feverish and toward morning was unable to sleep. Then it was that the nurse, thinking to relieve her, went to a shelf on which stood two small brown bottles. One of these contained calomel in small tablets, and the other pellets of the deadly poison, of the same size and shape.

A dose of the supposed medicine was administered and when the infant began to show signs of nausea, Dr. Reilly was awakened and after a quick examination discovered that his little girl had been poisoned. He quickly gave the child a remedy, and then phoned Dr. Owens, who, after a hard time spent in getting a carriage, drove to the scene. For some hours last night the little sufferer seemed to grow better, but toward morning a relapse set in.

The father of the child is one of the best and most popular athletes ever graduated from Georgetown. For a number of years he has successfully coached the Blue and Gray football team.

Dr. Reilly is a former classmate of Dr. Logan Owens, a former classmate of Dr. Reilly's, at Georgetown University, and Dr. Moran, were in attendance, and when they pronounced the little girl dead both Dr. and Mrs. Reilly were prostrated with grief. The child died at the home of Dr. Owens, at 2418 Pennsylvania avenue, where Dr. and Mrs. Reilly lived during the winter.

GRIZZLY KILLED IN KNIFE BATTLE BY DR. PENROSE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 12.—Dr. C. P. Penrose, of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, a brother of Senator Penrose, is at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minn., suffering from wounds received in an encounter with a great grizzly bear, in which he came near losing his life. He was with a hunting party in the Rocky mountains and at the time of the encounter had separated from a companion with whom